THE COTTON MARKET yesterday devel p d a more esecrial character than had prevailed on Tuesday. The telegrams were of a more encouraging character. Liverpool arrivals were 1-32d higher; New York was firm in both fuares and spots, the latter showing an allvance. The inquiry in our market was moderate, boiders were steady in their askings and prices remained unenanged. The tone of the telegrams infused a feeling of considerable confidence, and the market closed firm at nt quolations, The New York Bulletin of Monday reports: "On 'spots' prices manin advanced about 1-16e per poucd, and were held with much drength and confidence. The improvement, however, was not due so much to the demand from exporters or rejuners as to the inflashes of the speculative movement. The advices from abroad ardly warrant full purchases, and the earefu ;but in view of the upward turns ntracts, and that probable increated value of supplies to settle maturing engagements, owners are look with greater upon their accumulations, that shippers are making preparations to forward all deliveries. On contracts the feeling has been quite strong, and at times quite rampant, with the "bulls" generally displaying a very elongated pair of borns. The improvement is attributed to the encouragng advices from abroad and the contioned unfavorable weather reports from the south and southwest, coupled with predictions of an overflow is some of he principal cotton districts. It is further esserted that the long interest have combined sufficiently to make a determined push for higher prices, especially on the balance of this month and April as some protty chesp contracts are held for the period named, and the 'bulls' naturally queeze the market all it will stand before unleading 11. RIVER OHRONICLE.

Weather.

We think the backbone of winter is broken, but we don't know how long the old cripple will hover around this locality, giving us unexpected digs in the ribs just when we have made up our minds that he has been effectually done for. The temperature yesterday was a little more comfortable, made so by the sun, which shone out most of the day. At night the clouds again appeared and we are in breathless auxiety as to the result.

The river continues to rise here, bu slowly. Yet the rise of an inch at the present stage indicates that an immense volume of water is coming down. We append the official river report, together with that of Superintendent Round, of the gas works; THE SIGNAL SERVICE MEASUREMENT.
